Messrs. L'DITORS: In the absence of news, permit me to correct a few errors of your Hul. litt county correspondent, "Inspector," in his sketch of this county. He surely could not have carried his inspection out of the immediate vicinity of Cascyville, or he would not have used the following remark: "The land is rich and heavily timbered, but very hilly, which breaks up the county into low, flat valleys, the domiciles of myriads of frogs, &c." That we the western part of the county there are five ranges of hills, or rather ridges—waves, as termed by the geologists—that run parallel to each other, with valleys between them, varying from two to six miles in width; a portion of these valleys are gently undulating ridges, the remainder level bottoms, called here dats, all of which are rich farming land, except an oceasional narrow strip of post-oak glade, that seems to have been, by some unknown power, The San Antonio Texan, of the 12th, says classes, is sufficient evidence of qualitative. Neuralgia. A GENTLEMAN fiving in Philadelphia says :

"In passing through Pitisburg, some months since, I purchased a bottle of BGRHAVK'S HOLLAND BITTERS. It reflered me so much that, on reinraling home, I bought two more bottles from Dr. Dyoll, which completely cared me of Menralgia. I have recommended the article to many of my friends, and four or five of the number say it cured them. I think that my recommendation has done more for its sale iu Philadelphia than your advertising."

An Important Movement Among the Israelitee. The recent consecration of the new synagogue, Oheb Shalem, in Hanover street, has inaugurated an important reformatory movement among the Israelites of this city. The members of this congregation, who had up to that time professed the orthodox creed of the Hebrew Church, and strictly observed its prebrew Church, and strictly observed its prescribed rites and ceremonies, have now discarded some of the fundamental principles of their faith, and abandoned its old and established form of worship. Besides the introduction of an organ and the singing of hymns in the vernacular tongue, they have adopted a prayer-book, which gives due expression to the remarkable change of the religious sentiment which is beginning to make way among a large portion of that ancient people. Among the most important changes which have them for that the strictly observed its present the strictly observed its present the strictly observed its present that the strictly observed its present that the strictly observed its present the strictly obs beginning to make way among a large portion of that ancient people. polity, and the return to Jerusalem, and the resetablishment of serificial worship, are no longer objects of hope and prayer.

The dogma of a millennium, in a somwhat modified form, is a prominent feature of the new prayer-book. These radical changes among the people of Israel, who have for so many centuries adhered to the strict faith of their fathmodified form, is a prominent feature of the new prayer-book. These radical changes among the people of Israel, who have for so many centuries adhered to the strict faith of their fathers, have, of late, resulted in the formation of numerous congregations, which deviate more or less from the orthodox standard. The new of the control o or less from the orthodox standard. The new prayer book is the conjoined production of three Rabtis, of whom Rev. Dr. Isaac M. Wise, of Cincinnati, is the most distinguished. The congregation of Har Sannai, in High street, also differ from the orthodox creed in so far that the er from the orthodox creed in so far that the males and females occupy the same floor, the latter not being required to occupy the gallery. Another feature of this congregation is the fact that its members are permitted to eat what-soever food they please, all laws regulating that principle having been abolished. With regard to the Sabbath, however, all are agreed, and the seventh day is still observed as a day A.
